

Is your shop ready

WE ELEVATE LIVES.

for company owned tools?

The road to becoming a professional technician has never been longer.

A grayscale photograph of a person from the waist down, wearing a light-colored t-shirt and dark cargo pants. The person's hands are slightly out to the sides. The background is a plain, light color.

It is estimated that a technician can spend between $25,000 and $50,000 in tools over the course of their career.

Time spent waiting at a tool truck can cost
even a small shop $24,960
every year.

Company owned tools
removes the cost barrier
for new mechanics...

.....frees up space
on your shop floor.....

A blurred black and white photograph of a person, likely a technician, working on a car engine. The person is wearing a dark cap and is focused on their task. The background is out of focus, showing what appears to be a workshop or garage setting.

...and allows you to focus on the technician
(not their tool box).